

Completed reports were received from student affairs areas (22 total), along with instructional departments, academic service areas, and selected administrative units within academic affairs (66 total). Responses are being parsed and circulated to inform decision-making. In general, reports are submitted by Department Chairs, with Deans receiving, reading, reviewing, and "approving" the reports. While approval does not denote full agreement or prioritization, it constitutes a critical communications path.

The Chair reminded the committee of the two additional questions used during the "Fall 2020" cycle.

Q: Progress: "What are you discovering about instruction and/or services in this remote environment that you would want to maintain post-pandemic?"

Q: Planning: "What kinds of issues are exacerbated or emerging that are likely to remain (unless addressed)?" While follow up was needed in some cases, responses are now complete [one department had been pending at the time of the meeting].

- The committee discussed who should receive and review those responses. It was agreed that multiple parties are interested including the Planning Committee itself and the Program Review Committee (PRC). Responses are public, so there is no need to limit their availability.
- A synthesis may be useful as well, perhaps with some major groupings such as Student Affairs and departments relevant for the Adult Education Program (AEP) serving Noncredit.
- The committee discussed the potential usefulness for HEERF but the timeline may be too tight. HEERF themes have consistently centered on technology (for students and employees) an(e)-3 ( )10.6 (m)-6.4 (aj6.63)-6.4 (i..2 (a)

4.	Annual Planning & Budgeting Calendar	Discussion of the Annual Planning &amp; Budgeting Calendar Working Draft was limited due to time. Three members (Alexis Litzky, Wendy Miller, David Yee) volunteered to work with the Chair on fleshing out the draft. A committee member noted that prior versions emphasized who is responsible for each activity. The Committee also discussed whether we might have input on the Budget Assumptions. The Chair noted a desire for realistic scenarios. Committee members expressed concern about previously full classes being eliminated for Fall 2021 and Spring 2022 and the question of impacts on overall enrollment.	The Chair will schedule group time focused on the calendar.
